CAST FOR "OUTWARD BOUND" CHOSEN LAST NIGHT

NINE SELECTED TO TAKE PARTS
IN FIRST PLAYArdis Elston, Dan Hopkinson, and Diehl Snyder, '30, Are Leading Characters

By Bertha Greenberg

The cast for "Outward Bound," the first Sunset Players production of the year, to be presented November 21, was announced yesterday afternoon by F. T. Cloak, head of the dramatics department.

The cast includes six male and three feminine roles. They are the following: Dan Hopkinson, '31, will take the part of Scrubby, a ship steward and suicide who guides the boat on its trip between life and death. Ardis Elston, '31, will take the role of Anne, the wife of Henry, to be portrayed by Diehl Snyder, '30.

Jack Walters, '31, will carry the role of Mr. Prior, a young man of 28 years who has died of drink. He is the son of Midget, a poor woman who has died of overwork. Margaret Henkle, '31, will enact the part of Midget. Mrs. Clivedon-Banks, an English society woman, will be played by Josephine Diekhoff, '31. The part of Rev. William Duke will be carried by Fred Heard, '33. Roy McNeil, '33, will have the part of Mr. Lingley, an English business man, while Rev. Frank Thompson, the examiner, will be played by Arthur Smith, '31.

The play is a three act mystery dealing with the area between life and death. It is expected that the unusual tone of play will be well accepted on the campus. It met with great success when it was presented in London in 1923 and created a sensation in Atlantic City in the same year. It has had successful runs in New York and Chicago.

The business staff and stage manager have not been selected yet. Carmen Negrescu, '31, a major in the art department, will design the settings and have charge of the light-tormentors for lighting effects.

PLANS NEARLY COMPLETE; GIFT
IS ANNOUNCEDUniversity of Wisconsin Head
Accepts Invitation; L. M.
Alexander Gives Flagpole

By Madalyn Johnson

With final arrangements for the dedication of the $375,000 Alexander gymnasium almost complete, announcement has been made that Glen Frank, president of Wisconsin University since 1925, will be guest-speaker at the invitation banquet in the new building, Monday evening, Nov. 4. Dr. Henry Merritt Wriston, Lawrence college president, will act as toastmaster.

Together with announcement that Glen Frank will deliver the principal address at the dedication banquet comes a news release concerning the gift of a 115 ft. steel flagpole with a base of ornamental design, and two flags, from L. M. Alexander, Port Edwards financier and principal donor for whom the gymnasium is named.

Gift of Flagpole

The flagpole to be located at the north of the new building, will serve as a landmark for a wide radius of country. The gymnasium itself is built on a rise of ground and the steel shaft exceeds average flagpole height by 30 to 50 ft.

Approximately 2500 invitations for the dedication have been issued from the college office to high school principals and superintendents in Wisconsin, Upper Michigan, and Northern Illinois, to presidents and physical education directors of the nine Wisconsin State Teachers' colleges; to representatives of alumni clubs, to trustees and visitors. A special invitation to George Little and his staff of the University of Wisconsin has been issued.

400 To Attend

About 400 are expected to attend the dedication banquet. Interesting personalities among the guests include: Glen Frank, Dr. Jesse Fiering Williams, principal speaker at the dedication exercises, Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of Big Ten athletics, A. F. Shattuck, commissioner of the Big Four Conference, and L. M. Alexander, trustee of the college who made the gymnasium possible, and whose donation has far exceeded his original offer. Trustees of the college, representatives of alumni clubs, representatives of the Lawrence faculty, and prominent coaches and educators in the field of physical education will also be present at the banquet.

Glen Frank's attendance at the dedication exercises marks his initial visit to Lawrence. Dr. Frank was a special student at the Kirksville State Normal School for three years, later receiving his B.A. (1912) and his M.A. (1921) from Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois. In addition the Wisconsin president holds honorary doctor's degrees from De Pauw, Ann Arbor and Northwestern.

He was assistant to the president of Northwestern University for four years until 1919, was associate editor and later editor of the Century magazine and since 1925 has been president of the state university.

Art Club

Art club will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Dr. Otto Fairfield's room in the library.

Figures Show Vikes
Earned Beloit Win

A comparison of the play of the Lawrence-Beloit fracas of last Saturday shows that the Vikes earned their win of 28 to 0 according to the dope as figured up on paper.

Although the first downs made by the blue team only totaled 10, three more than the number accumulated by the losers, Lawrence tore off 371 yards from scrimmage as opposed to 73 for Beloit. The apparent discrepancy here is explained by the fact that Fischl's long runs for touchdowns do not count as first downs.

On the passing game, Beloit came out far ahead on total yardage, but their average for completed passes is little better, as Lawrence only attempted three and completed one of these for 10 yards and a touchdown. The state-liners made a total of 99 yards by the aerial route, although only completing about a third of their attempts.

The heavy side of the penalties was laid on the shoulders of Coach Rasmussen's outfit, the officials seeing fit to assess the local lads for a total of 90 yards in seven rebukes. The invaders collected three less penalties and were only set back for 35 yards.

The punting stacks up about even for the two teams, Lawrence kicking seven times for 268 yards and Beloit five times for an even 200 yards.

Dr. Bagge Lectures
At Two Rivers, Menasha

Dr. Rufus M. Bagge lectured before the Lions club and the Brotherhood club of the Congregational church of Two Rivers on Wednesday, Oct. 16. His lecture, which was illustrated by colored slides, was on the development of "The Mining Industry of South Africa." Nearly 200 men attended the lecture and the banquet which preceded it.

Dr. Bagge also spoke to the Rotary Club of Menasha at Hotel Menasha Wednesday, Oct. 16. The subject of his address there was "The Industrial Development of South Africa." In the address Dr. Bagge showed the political aspects of South Africa and showed the relation of the union of South Africa to the other nations of the world.

Chain Store Topic Is Question

First tryouts for the women's debate team are to be held Monday, November 25, with Coach Rexford S. Mitchell in charge. "Resolved: that chain stores are detrimental," will be the issue for the women this year.

Bertha Greenberg, '30, is the only veteran college debater returned. Of the remaining 13 to compete for a place on the squad five have high school experience, and the others are new in forensics.

The same system of trials will be used for the women as that for the men, namely the dividing of the group into affirmative and negative teams to oppose each other.

Bernice Johansen, Bernice Saracy, Helen Snyder, Grace Warmington, Mary Glen Jackson, Emogene Perschbacher, Dorothea Fuller, Tille Rosenbaum, Lucille Schwarz, all '33, Irma Molzow, Maxine Fraser, both '32, Dorothy Walters, '31, Millicent Marsh, '31, and Bertha Greenberg, '30, are the candidates who have signed up.

Mitchell, who was debate coach at the State Teachers' college in River Falls for a number of years, had not completed the schedule at this time.

The class will meet once a week with Dr. Bober in Main hall.

Fischl's Long Runs Account For Three Touchdowns; Squad
Plays Good Game

By Vinton Jarrett

Led on its victory cruise by the stellar performance of Paul Fischl, the "Flying Dutchman", of Manitowoc, the Viking football ship sailed proudly past Beloit Saturday at Whiting field to register its first Big Four win by a 28 to 0 score. The triple threat fullback ran wild over the downstaters, crossing the line for three of the touchdowns after long runs, kicking the point for one of them, and tossing the pass which Ken Laird received in the end zone for the final score.

Fischl Runs Wild

Fischl crossed the line on his first two scoring feats after 60 yard runs, and the third one he made by sprinting 70 yards through the entire Beloit secondary defense. On the preceding play he had just run for 57 yards but the ball had been called back because of a penalty, giving him an opportunity to prove his ability again by adding 13 yards to the previous attempt.

For the first time this season, the entire Viking team proved its real ability, coupling with fundamental football knowledge that last bit of drive and determination which had been the only lacking quality. Paving the way for the clever work of Fischl was a wall of interference which laid low the Gold tacklers on all sides.

The defensive work of the entire line and backfield, held Beloit well, with the exception of a few minutes in the third quarter when the losers cut loose with an orgy of passes and line plays which netted them five first downs.

Johnson Is Good

Although Johnson, pride of the Beloit football, demonstrated that he had not been over-rated as to his plunging ability, the boys in blue refused to crumple before his on-

Decoration Costs
Limited By GreeksInterfraternity Council Votes To Keep House Expenses Under $35 This Year

Limitation of expenses in fraternity decorations for Homecoming to $35 was approved by interfraternity council at a special meeting held last week. The move followed discussion following presentation of figures on the expenses of decorating last year.

Limitation of expense for fraternity floats was not made. It was believed that the separate fraternities would keep this expense well within reason.

That the average cost of house decorating last year was $67 for fraternities precipitated the move to limit expenses this year. It was announced at the meeting that cups would again be presented this year for first places in house decorations and float contests. Judges will be notified to take into account the matter of expense and disqualify any house which had spent more than the allotted $35 in preparation.

Judging of fraternity decorations will be at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, Nov. 8.

"JUST A BUNCH OF BIG BOYS—"

Lawrence football fans who entertained somewhat dubious ideas concerning the Viking football team should feel a lot different since Saturday's encounter with Beloit. Many paragraphs have been written criticizing Coach Rasmussen's men, but these criticisms are hard to believe after viewing the team in its first appearance on the home field.

It is rather tough for a team to be forced to play its first three games away from the warmth of local atmosphere, and the fact that the Vikings won two of these games speaks highly of them. Marquette was a tragedy, but tragedies will happen, and no doubt this taste of crushing defeat has done the team a lot of good.

Many of us have read what a football expert said of the Lawrence team after the Marquette game, but no one took that statement seriously anyway. In the opinion of one who is not an expert, but who is a Viking fan, the criticism might be paraphrased to read—"The Lawrence team is composed of a bunch of big boys, who like the going best when it's toughest."

NOVEMBER 4

With the announcement of Glen Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin as the principal speaker at the dedication banquet, and with the arrangement of plans practically completed, comes the feeling that November 4 will be a memorable one in the history of Lawrence college. As the contractor officially turns the building over to Lawrence officials, the dream of many years will at last be a dream "come true".

Those in charge of the dedication program have left out nothing which might make the ceremonies more impressive. The speakers are the best in their fields—in fact, the entire program is a most complete one, which is as it should be. Then too, Mr. L. M. Alexander, the man who has made the gym a possibility, and for whom every Lawrentian has a warm spot in his or her heart, will be there.

November 4 should indeed be a memorable one in the history of this college.

In hockey it's always a frame-up. In fact one up at each end of the field.

One thing we can't understand is why there is no better singing than usual at chapel now that Conservatory students are there.

The Frosh sing loudly now but after the semester they will no longer compose half the student body.

Will it be proper for a girl to walk over to the dances in the new gym or is this a rich man's school?

Collateral is something which is due Monday morning and done Sunday night.

The height of specialization is to lather one side of your face and shave the other.

We hereby give a big hand for our football team. We DO think though, that the band ought to learn some new numbers.

No, Filbert, the reason they stop a milk train so often is not necessarily because they want to milk it.

Dr. Raney Sketches Life Of Ramsey MacDonald

A brief biographical sketch of Ramsey MacDonald, Prime Minister of England, was given by Prof. W. F. Raney at convocation yesterday.

In his talk, Dr. Raney emphasized the fact that MacDonald's character was of the strongest type. He rose from one of the lowest fishing villages of Scotland to the highest position in England and is one of the few truly great men who have had the courage to withstand political condemnation and to stand by their own convictions against the abuse of society.

MacDonald was made Prime Minister of England in 1924. He has fulfilled his pledge to the extent of being recognized as one of England's best loved and most helpful ministers. He is, at the present time completing a good-will tour to the United States for the purpose of strengthening connections between America and Great Britain.

Short Sport Spasms

Heigh ho, as our old friend Berzinsky would remark, the Beloit game is over, finished, completed, and is no longer. In short, the final whistle blew last Saturday afternoon, and the game is officially ended—officially, but not as far as memories are concerned.

Once more we bow down to our own Flying Dutchman, the lad who so far this season has scored 63 points and is just started, Saturday reeled off 365 yards, or an average of twenty yards on every attempt. Aside from that he didn't do much, but with a little training it is hoped that he may develop into a football player.

And once more we bow down to Captain St. Mitchell and Kenny Laird, the boys who were created to play end and who have carried out their destination. Schneller came back and showed that he can play football when he wants to, and Voeks and Bickel need no mention. They're both veterans and they play accordingly, while "Tuffy" Vincent has got as much fight as any one could have.

The boys in the backfield shouldn't be slipped up on. Don't forget that every man back there was helping Fischl on his "Grange" tactics, and they all pulled a few "Granges" themselves now and then. Barnes, Rasmussen, Trankle, Brussat, Gelbke, Steinberg, and the rest of them are bad medicine for any opposing team.

The way the team went Saturday, there are no teams on the schedule who can feel safe against them, and there are going to be three more terrible battles. Next Saturday Carroll (and that's a bad one), then Hamline, and last of all dear old Ripon. Last year at Ripon was a sad, sad day, but this year—well, let's take them in the order in which they come. Carroll first, and may the result be like that of last Saturday. It'll be no cinch, however.

That's all for now, but not for the rest of the season. This win is all we needed, and the same spirit kept up means a happy Thanksgiving day.

Frosh Eleven Loses To St. Norbert, 7 To 6

ROACHMEN MAKE GOOD GAINS BUT FUMBLE OFTEN

Freshmen Show Power On Offense and Score in First Quarter; La Gosh Is Star

Although they showed plenty of drive on the offense Coach Johnny Roach's frosh gridders lost a tough 7-6 game to St. Norbert College at Whiting field, Friday afternoon.

The young lads, representing the latest addition to the student body, tore up and down the chalk marks, but when they rampaged up to the paying station they were stopped by a fumble or by sterling defense play of the opposition. This type of play seemed to characterize the whole game of the freshmen. When in mid-field the lads would step out and skip over and around the line of scrimmage, but when a score seemed in the offing they played rather loose ball.

La Gosh Given Rush

When searching for a mainly brow upon which to pin the laurel, let's not forget little Joe La Gosh. The little Milwaukee quarterback was in on most every play until he was given the "brms rush" by the officials when he tried to explain the rule book for the benefit of those in charge. Then there was a halfback named Atwood who did a great deal of slashing off tackle for many sizeable gains.

Cinkosky Is Good

Feind, a chunky fellow, besides accounting for the only local counter was responsible for several other gains of varying lengths but all of which stamped him as a ball carrier. The other boy in the backline was John Cinkosky, who played a consistent game for the losers, both on offense and defense for the full four quarters.

To try to pick an outstanding performer on the front defense would be difficult, as the line seemed to lack power despite the fact that it doesn't lack weight.

St. Norbert kicked off to La Gosh who returned to his own 35 yard line before he was spilled. Then began a 65 yard march down the field for a touchdown. The ball was taken over by Feind on a pretty 20 yard dash.

As the first quarter ended the yearlings muffed one and St. Norbert recovered on the blue and white 40 yard stripe. The visiting field general, Hoffman, got 15 yards, the frosh were penalized a "V" for offside play, and then Hoffman cast one to Geier who

Vike Harriers Are Still Idle

Denney Unable To Book Opposition For Team; Will Enter Midwest Meet

Attempts to secure a meet with the Beloit cross country team for last Saturday failed as did the proposed triangular meet this Saturday at Carroll. Coach A. C. Denney has now been forced to turn his attention to the Midwest meet at Cornell college, November 2. Schools from Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Illinois have signified their intention of sending runners which assures Coach Denney's team of some stiff competition.

Coach Denney has been confronted all fall with the serious problem of securing meets for his team, and is rather pessimistic of the outcome of the Midwest meet because of the failure of his harriers to meet other teams. Enthusiasm in cross country is at a low ebb with teams disbanding at Marquette, Carroll, Beloit and Oshkosh because of lack of interest. A meet with the Ripon harriers has been arranged and will be an added feature of Homecoming.

Captain Frank Jesse and his cohorts have been practicing since the opening of school and are in top condition. Men who have been showing up well in the daily 3½ mile romp besides the veterans Wolf and Barsch, are Seig, Kozelka, Mulford, and Ansorge.

converted the pass into a touchdown. Hoffman, himself, then shouldered the responsibility of making the final point of the day when he plunged over for the extra point.

The play from this point on was played mostly in midfield although just before the game ended the freshmen lost a chance for another score when a pass from the 10 yard line was intercepted.

Lawrence Defeated Beloit Fifteen Times Since 1899

By Roy Sample

The crushing defeat handed to Beloit Saturday by the Vikings served as a vindication of the trend of Lawrence-Beloit scores since the first game back in 1899. In this 30 year period, Lawrence has won 15 of the 24 games, lost six, and has tied with the Downstaters three times—two of the ties being scoreless. Lawrence piled up a grand total of 274 points in these games, as compared with the 121 counters chalked up by Beloit.

The Beloit victory with a 26-0 score was attributed by a Lawrentian reporter in 1895 to the fact that "this was the first time that Lawrence had ever met a recognized first class team on the gridiron". The two schools met again in 1902 when Lawrence broke through with a 24-0 victory. The general character of Beloit's team work was indicated when the Beloit coach "gathered his battered proteges at the end of the half and forced them to go through a grueling signal practice".

From then on to 1909, the Vikings experienced four victories, one defeat, and a 5-5 tie. A high light of the game in 1904 was the performance of Church, Lawrence full-back, who played the entire game with both ankles sprained. An amusing feature of the Lawrentian's report was their announcement that a 220 pound tackle entered Beloit the preceding Tuesday and left school after the game.

The Catlinmen in 1909 managed to eke out a 5-0 victory over the Beloiters. In the succeeding year, Lawrence held the state liners for downs in the first half, but couldn't prevent a 7-0 defeat. In 1911, with every man "playing gilt edged ball", an attempt to reverse the score was successful. A scoreless tie in 1912 was of enough significance to be given two thirds of the Lawrentian's front page. As the story has it "Catlin's men outplayed the state liners".

The game in 1913 was marked with an unfortunate incident. An injury to a Beloit guard necessitated removal to a hospital and this became the occasion for a bitter editorial duel of several weeks' duration between the Beloit paper and the Lawrentian. In 1914, Lawrence again emerged with the long end of a 36-0 score.

No games were played during the war period but, in 1919, Lawrence staged another comeback as they pounded out a bare margin of three counters on a 6-3 score. For some obscure reason, it was claimed at the time that the Beloit score was illegal. The succeeding two years witnessed two more Viking victories. 1922 was the occasion for a scoreless tie followed by a 9-24 defeat in the next year. The following two years were see-saw affairs with Lawrence taking the decision and then losing it to the tune of 13-0 in the next annual scrap. In 1926, the Vikings came back strong with a 24-7 victory which led to a similar score of 19-6 in 1927. In this battle, Lawrence made twelve first downs to Beloit's four.

Last year, the Vikings bowed down to a bitter defeat by a one point margin. The blue was crippled by injuries, and Krolin and Brussat had to follow the cane and crutch trail before the game ended. As the last half ended, the score stood 6 and 7.

With this galling defeat ranking in their hearts, the Vikings had no alternative but to go steam-roller fashion over the Gold Saturday afternoon to the thundering accompaniment of four spectacular touchdowns and

VIKES, CARROLL ARE WEEK'S BIG FOUR WINNERS

Pioneers Defeat Lake Forest 18-0, and Ripon Loses To Chicago "U" 10-0

A post mortem on last Saturday's scrimmages of the teams in the Big Four conference show that Lawrence and Carroll, who are to meet next Saturday at Carroll, rang up victories while Beloit and Ripon each went down to defeat. Lawrence and Beloit were the only members of the Big Four to play within the conference. Next week Lawrence and Carroll will be the Big Four teams who meet.

The Viking win and the Beloit defeat came as a result of a 28 to 0 decision in favor of the blue eleven, an outcome which has raised the Lawrence hopes of defeating the Pioneers at Waukesha Saturday. Beloit will travel to Carleton territory for her next contest.

Carroll scored a victory over Lake Forest to the tune of 18 to 0, and as a result are prepared to stem the Viking invasion next Saturday. These two teams showed lots of class in their victories and a mix between them promises lots of close action.

Ripon went into the Big Ten class for their last game and suffered a 10 to 0 drubbing at the hands of the University of Chicago. The Redmen will meet the University of Minnesota this Saturday.

four equally successful attempts at goal points. Vindication, indeed!

slaughters, Voeks in particular throwing him for losses repeatedly. There were several other Beloit stars who refused to twinkle to any extent, although Stipe, an end, got loose for several flashy receptions of passes during the third quarter rally.

During the first quarter there was no serious scoring threat from either side, although the Vikes completed four first downs and managed to keep in foreign territory most of the time.

After a few minutes of the second period had passed, Fischl found his feet and after ripping through the line strode down the field for 60 yards for the first score. St. Mitchell had no difficulty in locating the cross bar, and the score remained 7 to 0 for the remainder of the half, although Beloit injected a momentary scare when they completed a 25-yard pass.

Second Half

With the start of the second half, Fischl deemed it wise to take another 60-yard journey, doing it on the first play after the kick off and raising the total to 13 which St. Mitchell's toe increased by a point. Beloit then started their rally and a score was saved when Schneller gobbled up a fumbled ball on his own 30 yard line. The quarter ended two plays later with the ball still in the hands of the locals.

Miller came through in the course of the final quarter by intercepting a pass and carrying it to Beloit's 19 yard line. After two plunges by Brusat and Fischl had netted a first down, Laird ambled across the line and received Fischl's pass for the third touchdown. St. Mitchell kicked the point, and was taken from the game to receive a well-earned rest.

The final score came when Fischl put 70 more yards behind him, galloping past almost every one of the Gold Warriors before he crossed the goal. After this score the Viking star made his sixty-third counter of the season by kicking the extra point.

Reserves See Action

Coach Rasmussen shoved in all his reserves after this score, and the game ended as the Beloiters set forth upon another passing attack.

BOOK NOTES

These notes on new books in our library are written to serve as guides in your extra curricular reading.

"Field of Honor" by Don Byrne.

The last book by Don Byrne, who wrote it, "I consider 'Field of Honor' the finest story I have ever written." To those who have enjoyed "The Wind Bloweth", "Messer Marco Polo", "Brother Saul" and others of the late author's popular works, no further recommendation should be necessary. The book is written about the Napoleonic era.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" by Erich Maria Remarque.

A German war book with a greater sale than any other war novel. It tells the story of nine German boys killed in a war in which they had no interest.

"Whiteoaks of Jalna" by Mazo de La Roche.

A sequel to "Jalna", the Atlantic Monthly $10,000 prize novel.

"Roper's Row" by Warwick Deeping.

PROFESSOR AT CHICAGO OPERA

Percy Fullinwider Attends Performance of "Yolanda of Cyprus" by Clarence Loomis

Percy Fullinwider, professor of violin at the Conservatory spent the week-end in Chicago where he attended the performance on Saturday of "Yolanda of Cyprus", a new opera in English written by Clarence Loomis of Chicago, who was a student at South Dakota Wesleyan College when Fullinwider was a professor there several years ago.

Loomis has written several works which have won success, but his new opera has received outstanding distinction in the opening of the American Opera company's season in Chicago, having been performed four times since its opening on October 9. It is being given with such operas of long standing as Gounod's "Faust", Puccini's "Madame Butterfly", and others, the translations of which are being sung, the company giving all operas in English.

It is unusual that a composer so young should receive this distinction and it is interesting to note that all members of the cast are young artists, none of whom are over 25 years of age.
